have been tax-ridden by the Repub-Hean administration of Lima until a debt of half a militon of dollars has been piled upon the property owners of the city. It is time for a change; time to break the ring of blood-suck ore that are supping the substance of halpless taxpayers. Smash the notorious Republican ring that controls the municipal offices of this city and put capable men into office.

The editor of the Liba Gazette says the business men of the city are "dull and indolent." Either the editor of that sheet does not class himself among the business men or makes open confession to being "dull and indolent." And no one will dispute his charge in that one regard.

Governor McKinley has served no tice on the Republican party that he will not be a candidate for President uniess it is on a gold bug platform. A high protectionist and a gold bug would not be an available candidate for President. He would suit the the monopolists who control the Republican machine, but the people would not support such a candidate.

to the city of Lima is a public debt of about $500,000 for the payment of which no provision has been made. And on top of this the present council cooly contemplated placing about $50,000 for building a work house. In private business life such a course would be called imbecile. In public life it escapes under a milder name. Turn down the tricksters next Monday and place the municipal government in the hands of Democrats for clean, honest administration.

The proceedings of the French court martial at Tamataye which condemned ex-Consul of the United Seatos John L. Waller to a term of imprisonment for twenty years may lead to a complication more serious than any of those which have recently engaged the attention of the State Department at Washington. The Protectorate claimed by France over Madagascar has never been recoguized by the United States Government; neither has a state of war been formally declared by France to exist in Madagascar. The concession of valuable timber land in the rubber district of the island which Mr. Waller obtained from the Hova Government must, therefore, be assumed to have been valid, and his right to correspond with the native authorities, or with whomspever he might please even without the consent of the French military authorities on the island cannot be questioned. Both the property and the liberty of Mr. Waller must be respected by France. The fact that the gun boat Castine has been sent to the east coast of Africa shows that the emergency was not unforseen by our Government. An investigation and a de-

Mr. Bland believes that the election of 1896 will be a crucial time for the white metal. The last congress would do nothing with it. In the Fifty-fourth congress the senate will pass a bill for free silver. Perhaps it will mass a bill for free coinage, which will be defeated in the house, because a majority of th house of representatives in the Fifty fourth congress will not be for free silemphatically on the side of free silver. The president and the bankers and merchants are against it. He wants the question of the free coinage of ailver to be made the paramount issue in 1896 so that the people may put themselve finally on record. It will then be for their representatives in congress to fol low their bidding.

If the main issue comes on silver. 'political parties as now organized will be sorely strained, if not disrupted. In both the Republican and Democratic parties are strong forces that will no longer submit to an evasion of this ques

Mr. Bland calls attention to the fact that while the demand for gold has more than doubled since 1856, the output of it has only slightly increased since then. "That prices will remain on the present low level, or probably go much lower, is almost inevitable." The American people are aligning themselves sharply. Men of wealth in the large cities and manufacturing and commercial centers favor a gold standard. The agricultural and laboring and mining classes want free silver. In the number of voters the second class out numbers the first. Mr. Bland says that the maintenance of the single gold standard here requires the foreing down of all prices to a level with those of the gold countries. "The gold standard as now maintained presupposes a perpetual bond issue."

The men who load and unload vecsels at New Orleans are called screwmen. They are usually hired out by agents called stevedores. The stevedore men struck. Then the stovedores employed negroes, and some of the negroes were shot down in cold blood by white men. The striking screwmen, however, explicitly desired that they had any hand in the shooting. On the contrary, they desired they had any land any desired they had any land dangerous band. explicitly decied that they had any hand in the shooting. On the centrary, they declared they deeply regretted it and deprecated any kind of violence. The result of the strike and riots is that the association of white screwmen will hereafter themselves make contracts dinerated the shipowners, thus doing away altogether with the services of the stevedores. The screwmen have appointed as their agent Edward McCubbin, who will make all contracts with the shipowners and agents. The rate the screwmen have fixed for their labor is 35 cents an hour. The New Orleans association of screwmen are thus doing exactly what the dock laborers of Antwerp form a great and prosperous guild.

This conflict was the one seen from the housetops of Bayamo, and occurred about Myroth 10. At the battle of Los Negros the government reports they defeated the insurgents. This is not so, as the battle was an even draw. Another encounter at Vigueto, 18 miles from Manzantillo, confirms previous reports. On Friday, Maroh 15, the Spanish troops attempted to regain possession of Yark, now in the hands of insurgents, but were forced to withdraw after aspirised siege, losses namentioned around Canto river section.

The whole country is under the away of rebel influence. Bands of these are marching towards Lusumas de Victoria and Puerto Principi, growing stronger as they march. A strong band of insurgents are on the northern coast, daily expecting an expedition from the United States. They are to assist in the disembarkation of such an expedition the moment of its arrival.

The insurrection movement does not barkulon of such an expedition the moment of its arrival.

The insurrection movement does not appear to be received with favor by people in the fields who are moving into the cities. All kinds of work is suspended. The cutting of high grade timber has stopped from the fact that numbers of the cutters are with the insurrents and others done not note the surgents, and others dare not enter the forests for such purposes. The insurgents do not allow of the movement of cattle, keeping them in their regular season begins in that section. Then the roads will become impassable, making all kinds of movements difficult and ex pensive, especially with foreign troops as horses with tender feet will have to be shed or abundoned for their unfitures Everything then will be in favor of the natives.

The formation of the new Spanish ministry attracts much attention. It prudent they may hold the revolution is a partly passive state for several months, or if they are unwise they may harl a firebrand into the powder magazine and drive many into revolt who are now neutral.

The small compact Countermeister.

The small gunboat Countermeiste was patrolling the coast near Cape Craw on Saturday, March 16, and noticed a ship's yawl heading for them. It proved to be two German sailors who wanted water. They claimed to be fishermen from San Domingo, being blown from hat coast by heavy south-eastern gales. Thus were sent to San eastern gales. They were sent to San biage on March 18 and put in juil, where trage on Moren 18 and put in just, where were also two Absorberts from d in the same man er two weeks previous Their actions aroused Spanish sus picients, were thought that they had landed a large load of filtensterers. The American and German counts both have the matter before them.
